Call to Order

Chair, Joseph Auteri, M.D., called the meeting to order at 9:30 a.m. The minutes of the February, 1993 administrative board meeting were approved.

Old Business, Reports

Michelle Parker, M.D. summarized the status of the OSR/ORR liaison. She attended the OSR administrative board meeting on Tuesday, June 15th to learn more about student concerns and issues of interest. During the annual meeting, the OSR has scheduled a Capitol Hill site visit on Friday, November 5th. ORR members who are interested in participating in this activity may also attend. Michelle Keyes-Welch will work with Donna Quinn Yudkin, staff person for the OSR, to mail invitations to all ORR members. The OSR plans to invite the ORR to its Friday (11/5) evening reception during the annual meeting; the ORR will also issue invitations to the OSR for its annual meeting reception on Saturday, November 6th.

Barbara Tardiff, M.D. provided the administrative board with an update on the electronic residency application process. A survey on the electronic application process was distributed to program directors, and there was support for further study and development of an electronic application system. There was general support for further study because of the potential savings in time and money for students, program directors, and Deans' offices. A cost and feasibility study is underway, and a prototype of the electronic system will be introduced during the annual meeting. This will be a joint CAS/ORR session. The confidentiality issue and use of a supplemental application are under discussion.

Bernarda Zenker, M.D. updated the administrative board on the status of the generalist physician initiative. The Office of the Generalist Physician was recently established at the AAMC. Dr. David Greer, former Dean at Brown University School of Medicine, is acting director. The office is in the process of developing a resource database of generalist initiatives and an annotated bibliography of related articles. The database will also include a summary of federal and state initiatives. The office has scheduled site visits to selected medical schools and hospitals with successful generalist programs.

Legislative Briefing

In a joint lunch session with OSR, the ORR received a summary of the Health Education Lending Program (HELP) from Brent Chism, legislative aide to Representative Fortney (Pete) Stark. The HELP program would provide medical students with $60,000 for tuition and medical school-related expenses in exchange for a 1% tax on income until age 67. A $120,000 loan would be available for students who need additional funding; this requires a 2% income tax until age 67. The goal of the program is to stimulate interest in the generalist specialties and remove financial barriers for students interested in medicine. Mr. Chism felt that the proposal has many strengths including: affordable and automatic payments and ease of securing medical school financing. The program would be eventually revenue neutral; payments received from former recipients would be used to fund new loans. Payments could be forgiven for physicians who agree to practice in underserved areas. An insurance premium would also be included to account for default rates and assuring further continuation of the trust fund. OSR and ORR members were supportive of the proposal, but there were concerns about increasing the insurance premiums and the effectiveness of this program in increasing the interest in the generalist specialties. The OSR and ORR also expressed concerns about health care reform and its impact on this and similar proposals.

New Business

Michelle Keyes-Welch briefed the ORR on the status of the ACGME/ORR representation issue. The next ACGME meeting will be held on June 21-22. AAMC has proposed a rotational resident representation system. Each of the five ACGME parents would be asked to designate a resident representative for one year, with the designating organization rotating among the five associations (AMA, AAMC, AHA, CMSS and ABMS)

The ORR designation process is almost complete, with over 3/4 of the societies responding. The deadline for designating residents to the ORR was June 15th. Michelle Keyes-Welch will follow-up with the societies that have not responded with the names of new representatives.

Annual Meeting Planning

The administrative board finalized plans for the joint CAS/ORR annual meeting session on teaching residents how to teach. Dr. Neal Whitman, Director of Educational Development in the University of Utah's Department of Family and Community Medicine, will present the program. Dr. Marilyn Appel, Director of Curriculum and Evaluation at Hahnemann University School of Medicine, will co-present the workshop. Participants will learn to use strategies that promote collaboration in clinical teams and to provide feedback to students and residents that will help them build and improve clinical performance.

The administrative board reviewed the tentative ORR schedule of events during the annual meeting. On Friday, ORR members have the option of attending Capitol Hill visits and the Forum on the Transition from Medical School to Residency. The OSR has also invited the ORR to attend its reception Friday evening. On Saturday morning, the ORR will hold an orientation session for new representatives and begin its business meeting. Mid-morning, the ORR will break into a small group discussion of health care reform. Each representative will be assigned a small group; administrative board members will be leaders of the six discussion groups. The main topic will be health care reform; each small group will have a component of health care reform to discuss including generalist supply and demand, medical student debt, capping residency slots, graduate medical education funding, tort reform and managed care. Background reading will be forwarded to each participant prior to the annual meeting. Following an ORR lunch, the ORR will hold its joint CAS/ORR workshop. Also scheduled is the joint session with CAS on the electronic residency application service. A reception is scheduled for early Saturday evening. On Sunday, the ORR will reconvene with a report of the small group discussions, a continuation of the business meeting and election of administrative board members. New topics for subsequent meetings will be scheduled as time permits.

Executive Council agenda items

The ORR approved the election of new COTH members; this item was deferred during the Executive Council meeting. The ORR approved the election of the Association of Professors of Cardiology and the Association of Laboratory Animal Sciences to the CAS. These were subsequently approved by the Executive Council. The ORR approved the LCME accreditation decisions, progress reports and survey reports. These were also approved by the Executive Council. The ORR did not express concerns about the proposed amendments to the LCME accreditation standards and approved the amendments unanimously.

The ORR discussed the proposed changes in the ACGME bylaws increasing the number of public representatives from one to two and the proposed changes to the general requirements addressing disability insurance and counseling and support services. All three proposals were supported by the ORR and subsequently approved by the Executive Council.

The ORR discussed the handbook for medical schools on students with disabilities. No concerns were noted during the discussion. The document was approved by the full Executive Council.

The ORR spent considerable time discussing the health care reform briefing papers. Changes from the previous draft were highlighted by chair, Joseph Auteri, M.D. The ORR expressed minor concerns with the wording of some sections but voted to approve the document in its entirety. The Executive Council subsequently approved the health care papers but directed the Executive Committee to work with staff on rewording some sections, particularly those addressing the medical education consortia.

The next ORR administrative board meeting is scheduled for September 22-23rd.

Dear John:

The purpose of this letter is to follow-up on our interest in resident representation on the ACGME. We would like to request that the ACGME consider the following Bylaws revision:

Section 3. Article III
 Membership and Representation

Two public member representatives, one representative of the federal government, one representative of Residency Review Committees and one resident representative shall serve on the ACGME. The public and resident representatives shall be selected by a majority vote of the representatives of the member organizations and shall be entitled each to one vote. The representative of the federal government shall be designated by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services and shall not be entitled to vote. The representative of the Residency Review Committees shall be the chair of the Residency Review Committee Chairmen's Council and shall not be entitled to vote. One resident representative shall be selected by the Resident Physician Section of the American Medical Association and shall be entitled to one vote.

We hope that the ACGME will consider this proposed change to the Bylaws.

Sincerely yours,

Robert G. Petersdorf, M.D.
President

May 11, 1993

Dear Michelle,

Hello from San Francisco! Hope things are going well there.

First off, Michael Greenberg and I will be the AAMC reps from the APPD/AAP for the next two years. I'm thrilled he'll be a part of things as he is a great guy, a natural leader, and knows how the AAMC works!

I also just spent the last week at the AAP-Resident Section Executive Meeting and at the annual Association of Pediatric Program Directors Meeting and thought I'd share a few comments that were made at those meetings with the ORR.

1. Both groups were quite interested in medical student curriculum reform, specifically
 - a. increased teaching about primary care issues in the first years of medical school;
 - b. required ambulatory pediatrics, family practice, and general internal medicine experiences in the third year (apparently at some programs, these are fourth year electives)
 - c. clearinghouse for electives, summer jobs, and/or mentors to provide opportunities in the first two years to be exposed to primary care (who would be best source/site for this?)
2. Regarding resident experiences, comments were made that the AAMC/OCGME should continue to look at alternate sources of funding for residency salaries to provide more opportunities for ambulatory experiences. Pediatrics and internal medicine are both seeing their inpatient populations become increasingly more rare diseases (transplants, post-ops, etc) and many general and subspecialty patients are being managed on an outpatient basis. It's hard for programs to make sure their residents see a good variety if they are hospital-based primarily.

I'm also enclosing some information on the Generalist Physician in Training Project that AMSA has started on. I'm not sure I included it in my letter regarding the AMSA meeting.

Well, that's all my updates for now! Our pediatric group is primarily working on medical student recruitment, revision of the RRC guidelines for pediatrics, and occupational health concerns for physicians in training this year. . .as you can see reflected in my letters! Give everyone my hellos and I'll see you in November in D.C.

Sincerely,

Laurel K. Leslie, MD
